BELLARMINE UNIVERSITY MISSION STATEMENT

Bellarmino University is an independent Catholic university serving the region, nation and world by educating talented, diverse students of many faiths, ages, nations and cultures, and with respect for each individual's intrinsic value and dignity. We educate our students through undergraduate and graduate programs in the liberal arts and professional studies, within which students develop the intellectual, moral, ethical, and professional competencies for successful living, work, leadership and service to others. We achieve these goals in an educational environment committed to excellence, academic freedom, and authentic conversations that are not dominated by particular political or other narrow perspectives. Here we seek to foster a thoughtful, informed consideration of serious ideas, values, and issues—time-honored and contemporary—across a broad range of compelling concerns that are regional, national and international. By these means, Bellarmine seeks to benefit the public interest, to help create the future, and to improve the human condition. Thus we strive to be worthy of our foundational motto: In Veritatis Amore, In the Love of Truth.

The Fascinating World of Ancient Coins*

Whether you're a history buff or an avid coin collector, you'll enjoy learning about ancient coins, some of which were invented about 2,600 years ago. Gain insight into little-known facts about coins and examine many of the ancient silver and bronze coins in the instructor's extensive collection. Any metal coin made is probably still around in some shape or form and, surprisingly, many of them are very inexpensive to collect in spite of their age. Discover which coins are easy to find, which ones are scarce, and even which ones are fake!

INSTRUCTOR: Joe Sinski buys and sells ancient coins. He is a member of the Louisville Coin Club.

SPEC 348 A / Monday / Feb. 13
6:30 - 8 p.m. / $35 ($45 after Feb. 6)

SPEC 348 B / Thursday / Mar. 29
6:30 - 8 p.m. / $35 ($45 after Mar. 22)

The Beatles '68 - '70:

And in the End...

The Beatles travel to India to study transcendental meditation. They engage in a prolific period of songwriting. John is more outspoken in the Vietnam War protest movement. The "Get Back sessions" produce the "Let It Be" album. Despite their overwhelming success, the band tears apart in 1970 after recording "Abbey Road".

INSTRUCTORS: John Logsdon and Roy Martin are lifelong Beatles fans who bring passion and enthusiasm to this subject.

HMAN 425 / 6 Mondays / Mar. 5 - Apr. 9
6:30 - 8:30 p.m. / $75 ($85 after Feb. 27)

Elvis Presley '57 - '60:

*All Shook Up

Elvis continues his golden streak of # 1 hit RCA singles and stars in five Hollywood feature films. We'll discuss Graceland, his military service in Germany, and the trappings of commercial success for a country boy from Tupelo, MS.

INSTRUCTOR: John Logsdon is a lifelong Elvis fan who brings passion and enthusiasm to this subject.

HMAN 446 / 3 Thursdays / Apr. 5 - 19
7 - 9 p.m. / $59 ($69 after Mar. 29)

Beginner's Guide to Investing in Residential Real Estate

This course will assist you in determining whether investing in real estate is a viable option for you. Topics include: how to get started, single family homes versus apartment buildings, section 8 rentals, financing, record keeping and tax issues, the landlord tenant act, fair housing laws, lead-paint disclosures, cash flow analysis and where to find "the deals." You will also learn the pitfalls to watch for as a new investor.

INSTRUCTOR: Fred Levein, a Re/Max Broker, has over 150 rental units. He works with investors buying and selling investment properties.

SPEC 183 / 7 Tuesdays / Feb. 21 - Apr. 3
7 - 8:30 p.m. / $179 ($189 after Feb. 14)

Angel Investing:

*Investing in Early Stage Private Companies

Private equity investing can add attractive returns, but it is not for everyone. This course provides a basis for building a diversified portfolio of private equity investments using a disciplined approach to portfolio management. Topics include deal flow, business risk, deal structures, sponsorship risks, legal considerations, return expectations, valuation, pricing, governance issues and networking with other investors in this market.

INSTRUCTOR: Greg Chapman, MBA, has 30 years experience in investment management, design and deal making. Greg manages Anchorage Angels funds of private investments.

Certificate in Teaching English as a Foreign Language (TEFL)*

Via Lingua International is an institutional member of the International Association of Teaching English as a Foreign Language. Bellarmine University has partnered with Via Lingua to offer a non-credit Certificate Program that equips students with the basic skills and knowledge needed to take a position anywhere in the world as an EFL teacher. The program comprises five components: TEFL pedagogy theory, language awareness, teaching skills, life skills and cultural awareness. Via Lingua CTEFL courses are both moderated and accredited and exceed the international standards that are laid down for the regulation of the industry.

Via Lingua study programs are offered in 15 exciting locations around the world, including centers in Europe, Asia, South and Central America, North America and Africa. As a Via Lingua graduate, you will be able to take full advantage of the extensive network of worldwide centers. Via Lingua offers Bellarmine students the opportunity to continue their studies in one or more of the their study centers, engage in practicum opportunities, take part in additional short-term study programs, stay with local families and be immersed in local culture, develop their foreign language skills, take part in cultural exchange programs and internships and participate in research projects.

To earn the TEFL certificate, a student must attend the full program – 130 hours, which includes 10 hours of assessed teaching practice - and complete all assignments to the required standard. The Via Lingua job guidance program assists all successful graduates of the TEFL course in finding a suitable TEFL teaching position. Classes are held at Bellarmine University. Supervised teaching practice will be held in the Louisville community.

Lock of Ages:

A Guided tour of McAlpine Locks at the Falls of the Ohio

At one time, the Falls of the Ohio was the most serious obstruction to navigation on the 981-mile Ohio River. Since the early 1800s the US Army Corps of Engineers has undertaken a series of projects to provide safe and efficient navigation at the Falls. Take a guided tour of the newest completed project – the 1200' lock chamber. Learn interesting information about the history of the river and the Falls area. If timing is just right, you will see a towboat and barges move through the lock.

GUIDE: Chuck Parrish is a retired Historian for the US Army Corps of Engineers, Louisville.

2 - 4 p.m. / $35 ($45 after Apr. 15)

Exploring Louisville Architecture

Louisville has many wonderful landmarks: Humana Building, Actors Theater, and the Water Tower just to name a few. Explore how and why many of these remarkable structures were built. Learn about the owners and architects. If you love living in Louisville, you'll enjoy gaining insights about the interesting architecture in America's most livable city.

INSTRUCTOR: Steve Wiser, AIA, is a Louisville architect, historian, and author. He has written numerous books and regularly gives lectures on local history. Several of Mr. Wiser's books are "Modern Houses of Louisville", "Sites to See by DESIGN", and "Louisville Tapestry: People and Places who made America's Most Livable City".

7 - 9 p.m. / $39 ($49 after Apr. 12)

Ninety-Four Years Later:

*Why the First World War Still Matters Today **

World War I, the "Great War," ended in 1918, but the failure to secure a lasting, just and common-sense resolution to this war set in motion a string of events that led directly to the rise of both fascism and communism in Europe and eventually to World War II. In addition, the break-up of the Ottoman Empire, and the often-nonsensical creations of new countries to suit the needs of the British and French, helped lead to the ongoing problems in the modern Middle East. World War I made it clear that the United States would have to step up as a great power and was the beginning of the end of American isolationism in world affairs. We'll explore the continuing after-effects of the First World War.

INSTRUCTOR: Roy M. Martin, MBA, MA, is President of Strategic Planning International, Inc., a firm specializing in foreign policy analysis and international business.

HMAN 448 / 3 Thursdays / Feb. 16 - Mar. 1
7 - 9 p.m. / $59 ($69 after Feb. 9)

Cave Hill Walkabout:

Reading Nature, Stone, and Symbol

Cave Hill Cemetery, established in 1848, is one of America's premier, large urban cemeteries. This walking tour of selected sections will focus on tombstone symbolism, some of the unique historic personalities interred within the grounds and the wide range of trees and plantings at Cave Hill.

GUIDE: Clyde P. Crews, Ph.D., is a Louisville historian, priest and professor.

HMAN 130 / Sunday, Apr. 15
1:30 - 4 p.m. / $35 ($45 after Apr. 8)

The Poetry of Thomas Merton

Author, activist, literary correspondent, essayist, spiritual icon...Trappist monk Thomas Merton was also a serious and prolific poet – spiritually aware, politically engaged, aesthetically sublime. Explore the poetry of Merton, perhaps the only area of his life that has not received a great deal of attention. Required text: Selected Poems of Thomas Merton. (This course will be held in The Merton Center at Bellarmine).

INSTRUCTOR: Frederick Smock, MA, is an Associate Professor of English at Bellarmine University. Mr. Smock has written Pax Intransigentibus: A Meditation on the Poetry of Thomas Merton.

HMAN 428 / 6 Thursdays / Feb. 23 - Mar. 29 / 6 - 7 p.m. / $69 ($79 after Feb. 16)

Drawing Without Fear

Have you ever said “I wish I could draw”? You CAN draw. Spring is the perfect time to take this refreshing course and to overcome your fear of not “getting it right.” We all See and Draw in different ways... but the process is the same for all. You will discover, and be able to embrace, your own unique style of drawing in this class. We will focus on basic steps to drawing successfully, and on making the Left-brain & Right-brain connection. Each class session will build upon the last to culminate in getting the “whole picture” and being able to relax and enjoy focusing on the world around you.

INSTRUCTOR: Susan Lacewell Clements, MFA, has taught at the University and Museum levels, as well as in the groundbreaking Notre Dame/Memorial Hospital Humanities Project, where she taught Art to practicing physicians.

ARTS 171 / 8 Wednesdays / Feb. 22 - Apr. 11
6:30 - 8:30 p.m. / $159 ($169 after Feb. 15)

Larry Levis:

*American Romantic

“It is so American, fire. So like us.” Thus writes Larry Levis, one of our nation’s most essential contemporary poets. Levis published five books in his short life, and perhaps his best, Elegy, appeared after his death in 1995. Of course, to label Levis quintessentially American is to place him alongside Whitman, Frost, and Wallace Stevens. Indeed, his work contains the optimism and romantic sentiment particular to those writers. We’ll explore Levis through the lens of his predecessors, addressing his identity as romantic poet in an increasingly suburbanized and dystopian American landscape.

INSTRUCTOR: John James, MFA in poetry, teaches in the English Department at Bellarmine University.

HMAN 445 / 6 Tuesdays / Feb. 21 - Mar. 27
6 - 7:30 p.m. / $79 ($89 after Feb. 14)

World Religions:

An Introduction

In a globalizing world, we must move beyond mere tolerance to understanding and true appreciation. To that effect, we’ll explore the various world religions (Hinduism, Buddhism, Judaism, Christianity, and Islam and others) and attempt to find common points and differences between them. The only requirement for participation is the ability to remove one’s own dogmatic sandals and listen and learn.

INSTRUCTOR: Rev. Adam Bunnell, OFM Conf., Ph.D., is an historian who has served in several universities and has traveled the world promoting ecumenism and inter-religious dialogue. He is currently Special Assistant to the President of Bellarmine University for International and Interfaith Relations.

HMAN 241 / 8 Tuesdays / Feb. 7 - Apr. 3
(except Mar. 6) / 6 - 7:30 p.m. / $79
 ($89 after Jan. 31)

Writing Without Fear:

*Bringing Creativity to the Page

Do you want to explore your creative side? Writing Without Fear is a fun way to respond to the creative writing possibilities that lie within you. In a non-threatening environment, you’ll receive writing prompts designed to stimulate the imagination and discover a writing style that is uniquely your own. Whether you write for your own enjoyment or aspire to expand readership, this course offers you guidelines for developing a more creative lifestyle and for turning inspiration to the page. Play with metaphors and similes, dance with figurative language, and hear the music of your own words.

INSTRUCTOR: Bonnie O. Johnson, MFA in Writing, teaches writing and literature courses at Bellarmine University.

$115 ($125 after Feb. 9)

Medical Spanish

Would you like to be able to ask and answer basic questions when working with Spanish-speaking patients? This course introduces you to the Spanish language, with emphasis on appropriate expressions such as "How are you?" "How old are you?" "What problem are you having?" and "How long have you had the pain?" We will also discuss important information you will need to know in order to work successfully with Latin American patients - the culture of the Hispanic community, basic rules of courtesy, greetings, attitudes toward health care, family and societal values.

Understanding Your Heart's Potential

Our minds are intelligent and invaluable in our day-to-day experiences. However, when we want to expand ourselves beyond our limited beliefs and habitual behaviors, it is our heart that has the consciousness we need. Learn very simple, yet powerful, techniques to start the process of getting out of your head and into your heart. Explore how to create new neural pathways to the way you want to experience your life versus how you have been programmed to experience life.

INSTRUCTOR: Angie Brown is a licensed HeartMath provider. She has been using and teaching HeartMath for 7 years.
