

BELLARMINE UNIVERSITY

Gender, Language and Professional Life

Gender communication impacts interpersonal relationships from the playground to the Board Room. Explore how we socially define what is masculine and feminine and how those perceptions influence business cultures and HR decision-making. Examine power dynamics in the workplace, such as the role of gender and bullying. Utilizing case studies and recent writings on the subject, discuss work/life balance issues and how they impact employment policies and your staff handbook.

Instructor: Kimberly Parker, Ph.D. in Communication, is an Associate Professor in the Bellarmine University School of Communication.
