LOCKED-IN: A SOLDIER & CIVILIAN'S STRUGGLE WITH INVISIBLE WOUNDS by CAROLYN FURDEK

About the Author

Carolyn is a West Point graduate, former Army Captain, combat heavy engineer with multiple deployments abroad. She is a Bellarmine Alumni that practices as a Doctor of Physical Therapy. Carolyn is a mental health advocate both for veterans and civilians in the community and seeks to help people who struggle and care for those with invisible wounds. She is donating a percent of the book proceeds to Athena's Sisters an organization that promotes healing and visibility for veteran women.
