Study Abroad in Sports Administration

“The international experience for Bellarmine University business students differentiates it from other programs and contributes to the global perspective needed in today’s business environment. Business students at Bellarmine recognize and value diversity as part of the development of leadership for future success.”

Dr. John T. Byrd, III, Faculty, Bellarmine Business Administration Department

Study Abroad as a Sports Administration Major and . . .

- Learn firsthand about global markets and international trade
- Experience world events through another culture
- Gain international perspectives in the fields of business and sports
- Acquire important intercultural skills for the increasingly diverse and international workplace
- Build your résumé by demonstrating your independence, flexibility, and willingness to take on new challenges

“Go somewhere that pushes you to always try new things, I did and it was the most amazing thing I’ve ever done.”

Sarah Bowley, Semester Abroad, Chinese University of Hong Kong

Plan ahead . . .

As an accounting or business student, you can study abroad as a sophomore, junior or senior. There are opportunities for elective credits in the major which gives you flexibility to study abroad and make progress towards your degree. Discuss study abroad options with your Academic Advisor and the Program Director.

- Begin planning at least a year in advance of your study abroad program. Plan to meet with the Study Abroad Advisor and talk with faculty and students who have taught or studied abroad. It is never too early to start planning!
- Set some goals. There are many partners and programs abroad that offer business courses. The best one for you depends on what you plan to gain from your experience.
- Prioritize your goals. See the OSAIL handout on this subject and consider your long-term academic and professional goals, as well as your on-campus degree requirements.
- With proper planning, study abroad can help you prepare for the next step after college whether it is graduate school or starting a career.
- Start saving now! Consider saving for your time abroad when setting your spending priorities today.

Can I afford it?

YES! Now is the most cost-effective time in your life to spend an extended period of time abroad. Most undergraduate students do not have to balance a job, mortgage, family and car payments when saving for study abroad.

- Studying abroad for a semester on exchange will cost about the same as attending Bellarmine and living on campus.
- For exchange programs, financial aid and scholarships can be applied toward your semester or academic year abroad.
- There are many short-term programs with a wide range of prices to accommodate various student budgets.
- Bellarmine also offers scholarships for study abroad! For more information visit:

“I was given the opportunity to learn something of many cultures of the world If I could do it over, I would have spent an entire semester in Australia.”

Study Abroad Information Meetings and Highlight Sessions

Not sure how to start? There are general information meetings held weekly in the fall. See the BU student calendar or contact the OSAIL for dates.

The Study Abroad Fair

This annual fall event held in September is a great place to talk to program providers and students who have studied around the world on Bellarmine’s programs. It is a wonderful time to ask returned students about their experiences abroad.

What happens next?

Visit the Office for Study Abroad & International Learning in Horrigan Hall Suite 111 to learn more about the program and application deadlines. Talk with your Academic Advisor and the Program Director for study abroad information regarding your major. Learn what courses you will be able to take abroad, and plan ahead. Research the country and site where you wish to study. Find out as much as you can about your host site.

When should I go?

Summer programs are available to all students starting the summer after freshman year. Depending on a student’s major and minor, certain times may be better than others for long-term study abroad. See below for tips on deciding when you should go.

Freshman

The best time to start planning for study abroad is your freshman year. If you hope to have two international experiences, it is a great idea to do a winter program during or a summer program after freshman year and then plan for a semester or year abroad junior year.

Sophomores

There are limited semester sites available for sophomores. However, mature applicants typically do not have trouble finding an appropriate site for study. The application to study abroad sophomore year is due in the fall of freshman year. Please work closely with the Study Abroad Advisor and your Academic Advisor to see what plan is best for you.

Juniors

Most Bellarmine students study abroad during their junior year. At this point, you may be more focused on upper division business courses and electives. See the descriptions on the next page for program suggestions.

Seniors

You can still study abroad during the fall semester or winter break of your senior year. You will need to select your location carefully to ensure that you can take specific classes you need for graduation. You will also want to choose a site that matches Bellarmine’s calendar so that you will be back in time to start the spring semester at BU.

How do I select a program?

Bellarmino has more than 150 international program sites. When selecting a program that will work best for you, consider your geographic interests and academic goals. Use this sheet, talk with your advisor, talk to past participants of study abroad programs, and work with the OSAIL to identify the best program for you. These highlighted programs offer excellent options for you to earn credit in your major; however, depending on your flexibility, you may also want to explore other Bellarmine partners and programs. As the School of Continuing and Professional Education and the OSAIL work together, specific recommended programs may change. Check with the Study Abroad Advisor for the latest information.

Can I fulfill graduation requirements?

General Education: General education credits can be fulfilled on almost all study abroad programs. Some excellent courses to take abroad include: Fine Art requirement, English Literature requirement, Social Science requirement and the IDC 301 requirement. Occasionally approval is granted for the Theology elective requirement.

Major requirements: Sports Administration is offered in English at a growing number of our partner universities. Some institutions have a broader selection than others and they are listed on this page. With advance planning, you will be able to earn credits for your major. Plan on taking some elective credits in your major that are not offered on campus so that you can enhance courses you have taken at BU.

Minor requirements: Depending on your minor, you may also be able to take courses to fulfill those requirements abroad. Please consult with the Department Chair.

Study Sports Administration for a semester or an academic year at partner universities abroad

The list on this page contains links to view course catalogs and/or titles of SPOR courses offered at BU bilateral partner universities abroad. Most links provide access to a course description. You should review this list with your advisor and the Program Director to see which institution will provide you with the courses you need. If necessary, you will also want to discuss substitutions or waivers with the department chair.

ISEP Exchange

Bellarmine is also a member of The International Student Exchange Program (ISEP) which provides access to many additional study sites around the globe. It is easy to do a search by subject on the ISEP website www.isep.org. For most sites, you can access course catalogs for these institutions online or in the OSAIL. Students who have many electives will have greater flexibility in their choice of schools. Students who have a second major may also choose to focus on that subject area while abroad.
