"Even though Bellarmine's campus is not very big I found a lot of new friends here. It is amazing how one can find buddies from all over the world and become so close and attached to them."

"The students here at Bellarmine are very welcoming. I felt at home on my first day on campus. Bellarmine's small size class affords the best class you can imagine. In these classes, you are recognized not just as another student but an individual with unique talent and identity. ."
