DIRECTIONS TO VIEW POTENTIAL CLASSES

You can find the course descriptions for courses that were offered in the previous year. While they might change slightly for the coming school year, they are likely to be similar.

Bellarmino cannot guarantee any class placements until the registration date. It is important that exchange students planning to study at Bellarmino have some degree of flexibility with their course selections. If they have a required course that needs to be taken during exchange, they should discuss this with the Study Abroad and International Programs Office before applying to Bellarmino for exchange.

To find the course descriptions in the catalog, click this link: [Catalog Home | Catalog \(bellarmino.edu\)](http://Catalog Home | Catalog (bellarmino.edu)) and follow these steps:

1. On the left side bar click on “academic programs” under “undergraduate information”
2. You will see a list of subject areas—click on the subject area of interest
3. Scroll down to the bottom and click on the “_____ Courses” under “Course Listing”
4. Click on the individual course you are looking for the description.
5. Pay close attention to when courses are offered, spring or fall. Also, the courses may note a prerequisite – you can look at the course description for the prerequisite. It may be possible for us to review your home university transcript to determine if you have taken enough relevant coursework to meet the prerequisite.

Class Schedule

Visit our Class Schedule site and click on the most recent Spring or Fall Course Schedule to download the PDF.

You can use this list as a reference of what types of classes are normally offered. The schedule for semester you are planning exchange may not be published until a few months prior to your exchange. Please reference the previous year’s course schedule for informational purposes, some offerings may change but this should give you an idea.
