

Louisville & Relocation Information

Greater Louisville, pronounced "LOU-a-vuhl," is a thriving city of about 1.2 million people. Our city offers all of the benefits of a contemporary city on the move, along with the gracious hospitality that has made this region legendary. Not exactly southern and not exactly midwestern, Louisville is home to people of kindness, people of greatness, and people of character. A big city with a small-town feel, Louisville is a place where you'll find every manner of arts, entertainment, sports and commerce, but still get a smile and a "hello" from a complete stranger.

Located right on the edge of downtown Louisville in the city's first suburb, The Highlands, Bellarmine is within walking distance of some of the city's most popular public parks, shops, restaurants and clubs. Funky and bustling with energy, the Highlands is home to art galleries, consignment stores, book stores, record stores, coffee shops, and boutiques. Between the parks and the shopping/dining corridors, there's not much you can't do in the Highlands.

On Campus Housing

- Summer only: Bellarmine University Campus Housing offers summer accommodations to DPT students starting May 6th through August 4th. The rate is $50/week for a double room and $100/week for a standard single. Single room requests will be granted based on availability. Submit an application at: <https://bellarmine.wufoo.com/forms/2019-extended-stay-summer-housing-application/>
- Fall/Spring: There are also few limited on-campus housing options available at a discounted rate for our DPT students. However, these will be offered on a first-come, first-served basis. If interested, just designate on the same housing application referenced above.

Off Campus Options

Many of our out-of-town students have found working with property management companies to be an effective way to manage their relocation. While we do not have official relationships with any management groups, here are a few you may want to consider:

Jay T. Pitts & Associates – Remax (Jay is Bellarmine alumni)
