

Are you eligible for a housing exception?

Are you eligible for a senior exemption?

(Are you going to have 89 or more credit hours after the Spring 2022 semester?)

- If yes: select the “Claim Senior Exemption” option in your Fall 2022 housing application.

Are you eligible for a commuter exception?

(Are you going to live with a parent or guardian within 50 miles of campus?)

- If yes: fill out page 1 of the Housing Exception Request – Commuter application, have your parent or guardian fill out and sign page 2, and upload the entire application in your Fall 2022 housing application.

Do you have medical circumstances that limit your ability to live on campus?

(Do you have official documentation from your medical provider about your diagnosis and how it will be more successfully managed in off-campus housing?)

- If yes: fill out a Housing Exception Request – Medical application, and upload the application and all required supporting documentation in your Fall 2022 housing application.

Do you have a financial hardship that affects your ability to live on campus?

(Do you have documentation that demonstrates a significant change and strain in your financial situation?)

- If yes: fill out a Housing Exception Request – Financial Hardship application, and upload the application and all required supporting documentation in your Fall 2022 housing application.

If none of these circumstances apply...

- You are not eligible for a housing exception, and should participate in room selection.
